

PATRICK A. UNGASHICK

Helping business owners achieve successful exits.

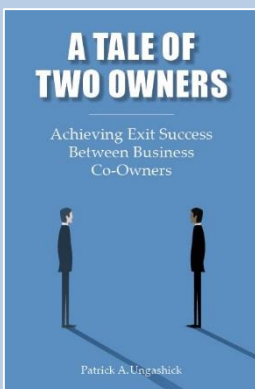

Patrick has been helping business owners plan for and create successful exits for more than twenty-five years. He has worked with owners of businesses in a wide variety of industries, from as small as several million in revenues to as large as nearly half a billion. Patrick is an author, highly sought-after speaker, and knowledgeable advisor. He has been quoted in the Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Financial Week and other media.

Author

Whether your ideal exit is soon or many years from now, this is a must read for business owners. The book reveals the Seven End Zone Questions that owners must answer to achieve a successful exit, and provides more than fifty tools and tactics to reach your end zone.

The story of two business co-owners who realize, as many co-owners do, that their exit goals are incompatible. It's a fable that deals with a critical real world issue—how can one owner happily exit, when achieving his goals means denying a successful exit to one's co-owners?

Visit www.patrickungashick.com to order your copies today. Also available from Amazon and in e-book format for Kindle and iBooks readers.

Speaker

Recommended Audience: Business owners and chief executive officers.

Programs: Presentations range from key note address up to half-day and full-day interactive workshops.

More Info: See www.patrickungashick.com.

Inquiries: Contact Jacki Labat at 678-322-3025 or jlabat@navixconsultants.com.

Consultant / Resource

Contact us to discuss your business exit questions and needs. Initial consultations are confidential and complimentary.

Issues and needs we help address:

- Designing your custom exit plan
- Helping co-owners plan for exit
- Buying out a co-owner
- Preparing a company for sale
- Selling to my employees
- Incentive plans for key employees without sharing actual ownership
- Passing the business to the kids

Contact Jacki Labat at 678-322-3025 or jlabat@navixconsultants.com.